FALL RIVER RESISTS REDUCTION 31,000 WORKERS TO STRIKE

Operatives Will Walk Out Monday if 12½ Per Cent. Out Is Enforced.

FALL RIVER, July 21.—"Let us starve in the street, if starve we must."

This is the sentiment to-day of the great mass of mill workers who have decided to strike rather than suffer another cut in their paltry pay.

Fully realizing that the giant specter of want will hover over the mill city and stalk into the poverty-stricken homes when the strike goes into effect, hardly a man or woman who stands at a loom today facing an announced cut-down of 12½ per cent. could be found who did not favor the strike which was voted for by the intense last night.

Already the suffering that the struggle will entail has manifested itself. Plutocrats beyond words are the conditions in the River City and in Fall Village. Measures have already been taken to give relief to the suffering.

Diet Bread and Molasses.
The principal diet in many of the families of the poor is stale bread and molasses. And the members of the families depend on a great measure upon charity for the bread. Children who were playing among garbage cans. They suffered from a quantity of refuse food. The children were badly and often by the streets. The children of the mill workers who had been out of work for many weeks.

VOTE ON STRIKE QUESTION.

The vote of the Fall River labor unions on the strike question was:

	For	Against	Total
Weavers	850	120	1,070
Carders	119	103	222
Spinners	154	84	238
Loom fixers	204	65	269
Slashers	83	24	107

Numerous incidents have occurred within the last week of mill hands falling in a faint while at work because of their half-starved condition. Here is one specific instance:

Dropped Down Starving.
In the Cline mill on Thursday a poor fellow began his first day's work in weeks. He was thin and emaciated. After working for a few hours he dropped in the floor. A physician was called.

"He has been starving himself," said the doctor.

When the young man recovered it was found that the doctor's diagnosis was correct. The man had not had anything of a meal since the morning of four days before. The man was sent home with money with which to buy food.

One Chance to Stop Strike.
There is only one chance that the strike may be prevented, and the great army of starving women and children that would result.

Overwhelming Vote of Unions Favor Fight Against the Mill Owners.

The cut in wages announced to go into effect on Monday.

It is understood, president of the Manufacturers' Association, that the mill owners hope when seen by a BOSTON AMERICAN reporter today.

"The time has come when one thing or the other has got to be done," he said. "To run the mills the cut-downs must be made. It seems to me the strike must be a losing game to the operatives."

On the face of every resident generally in the city, there is a look of gloom. On the street there is a sound of wailing from a single street. The industrial class generally is known to the citizens of Fall River.

BOSTON MAN'S INSANE VALET SHOT RESCUER

Attacked Woman and Turned on Man Who Stepped in to Save Her.

CAUGHT AFTER HOT CHASE

Shot down by James H. Cutler, valet to Dr. B. G. Spooner, formerly of Boston, William Borenman, an iron worker, of No. 120 Bankview avenue, Brooklyn, is dying as the result of his attempt to save the life of Kate McNulty, the janitress of No. 23 West Forty-fourth street, which is Dr. Spooner's residence.

Teased wife dispatches to the BOSTON AMERICAN say that Cutler, who had been brought from Boston by Dr. Spooner some time ago, had been acting queerly lately and his actions became so pronounced this morning that he was discharged and Borenman was called in to take his place. At 8 o'clock this morning he met the McNulty woman at the top of the basement stairs, and with wild eyes and disheveled hair sprang upon the woman and with the butt of a revolver began beating her head.

The shrieks of Miss McNulty attracted the attention of Borenman, who was passing at the time. Without an instant's hesitation he rushed into the house and meeting Cutler on the stairway grasped the revolver and discharged it upon the assailant and in the struggle that followed, the revolver was discharged and Borenman fell off the stairs.

RUSSIANS SEIZE ANOTHER SHIP

English People Clamor for Reparation or War and Cabinet Is Again to Assemble to Consider the Capture of British Ships on the High Seas--Russians Beaten in Big Battle.

The almost frenzied demand on the part of press and public for vigorous action on the seizure of the steamship Malacca and stopping of the Pak Ling by Russia resulted in a cabinet meeting in London this afternoon.

Russia has made a preliminary reply to Great Britain's protest, through the Russian ambassador at London, assuring the government that there is no intention of infringing on British rights. It is reported that the Russian government will order the release of the Malacca.

The seizure of the Pak Ling and the departure of the Malacca, flying the Russian flag and in charge of a prize crew, for Libau, a Russian port, where she is to be tried by prize court has stirred the press and public to frenzy.

There is every indication that public sentiment will plunge England into a war which will involve all of Europe, unless the situation is handled with the most careful diplomacy.

Reports from the Far East indicate that the great battle of the war is on. Kuropatkin apparently has made a desperate effort to break through the cordon of Japanese surrounding him and has failed.

His troops made a reconnaissance in force and were repulsed with great slaughter. Heavy fighting has been in progress since the dawn of July 19, with the advantage of position and numbers in favor of the Japs.

INJUNCTION FORBIDS STRIKERS TO PICKET

EVEN TALKING TO WORKMEN IS FORBIDDEN IN JUDGE HANEY'S ORDER.

CHICAGO, July 21.—What is said to be the most stringent labor injunction ever issued by the Cook County Superior Court has been granted by Judge Haneey. It was given in behalf of twenty firms in the Chicago Metal Trades Association, restraining members of District Lodge No. 8, International Association of Machinists, from picketing the plants.

Strikers and their sympathizers are forbidden from even talking to workmen of the companies. Fifty affidavits telling of violence were presented.

DEATH OF HORSE SENDS GIRL INTO HYSTERICS
The sudden death of the horse they were driving sent thirteen-year-old Margaret Harter into violent hysterics on Broadway, near Elemer street, Malden, as she, with her mother and two younger sisters, were returning from Bevers Beach.

At Charles Fuller's house, near by, where she was taken, Dr. Deal quizzed her as she could go home with her mother, Mrs. Joseph Harter, of 470 Broadway. She is not yet out of danger.

RUSSIA MUST YIELD OR FIGHT ENGLAND

LONDON, July 21.—Great Britain wants war with Russia. The people are wildly indignant at the seizure of the British steamship Pak Ling, on top of the refusal of Russia to release the Malacca, which has been taken, under Russian flag, to Libau for trial by prize court.

There is an angry tone in the comments on the situation in the afternoon newspapers. The view is expressed plainly that there is nothing left for the Government to do, in view of Russia's act, except forcible intervention. This is being urged throughout all England, and the Government, by calling a cabinet meeting this afternoon to consider the situation, appears to be responsive to popular sentiment.

MUST RELEASE MALACCA.
The afternoon Star printed a lengthy article under similar headlines, in which it says:

"In spite of England's protests, Russia has removed the Malacca from Port Said, and it is impossible that there will be any compensation for this country but forcible intervention. Then England should be prepared to take to a Russian port, and then leave the issue that Great Britain has sought to solve for many years."

The Globe, the St. James Gazette and the other evening newspapers echo similar sentiments, but British leaders are low.

Russia's attitude is deprecatory, and she

FIRE LEUT. BADLY HURT

Lieutenant Fitzgerald, of Protective company No. 1, was severely injured by being thrown from the wagon at Portland and Southbury streets today, while responding to an automatic alarm at Elm and Haverhill streets. The horse fell in knocking the corner. The lieutenant was pitched into the street. One of the horses in his struggle killed him.

Lieutenant Fitzgerald was taken to his home No. 11 Berkeley street, where he was attended by Dr. W. F. Temple.

CHARGE IN CASE ROYCE.
Between the hours of 9 p. m. and 6 a. m. commencing tonight and continuing each Saturday night, a curfew will be enforced between Massachusetts avenue and Southbury street, all children under the age of 16 years will be required to be in their homes by 10 o'clock.

TAX RATES DROPS.
On July 21.—The assessors have announced that next year's rate on $10,000, will be $1.10, and from the rate of 1903 to be $0.97, the total decrease of $0.13.

YANKEES SHOT BY MEXICANS

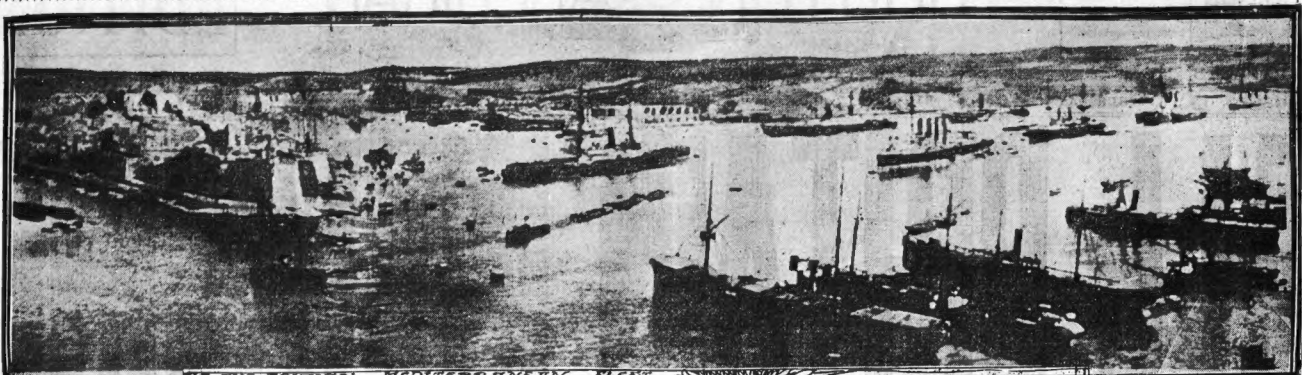

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The State Department has received a telegraphic report of an outrage upon Americans at Mexican, which says:

"Two Americans shot down in their office in Agave Chihuahua de Yuma, this State, by the Mexican army. The Americans were shot down without taking any necessary precautions. Report follows."

MEN WHO SAILED ON MICHIGAN NOW ALIENS
Because the assembly Michigan sailed from this port with a number of cattlemen, the order to the immigration officers papers at the local immigration office.

Commissioner Hittling has issued orders to his inspectors to exercise particular vigilance on the arrival of all incoming steamships and boats to apprehend the men. The order to the inspectors reads that they are to look for the men who will be held up on their return.

ALL EUROPE BREATHLESS AT CRISIS THAT PORTENDS TO GENERAL STRIFE. RUSSIA HOLDS MALACCA, BRITISH CRY FOR WAR

MALACCA SAILS FOR RUSSIA

Another British Steamship Has Been Seized by "Pirates."

ENGLAND IN WAR FRENZY

Their heads at the present juncture. The Pak Ling, which sailed from London on July 2 for Yokohama with a general cargo, belonging to the Mutual Steam Navigation company, Captain Lewis, is her commander.

She sailed from Gibraltar on July 7, and is supposed to have been taken in the Red Sea, near where the Malacca was held up. It is a large steamer of 2,475 tons, built in 1898, and is an extremely valuable prize.

This news has created a veritable sensation here, and war risks which yesterday were but a few shillings are today quoted at a pound as ten guineas.

The British ministry faces a situation which will require the most careful diplomacy if the action is not to be plunged into a war that will involve all of Europe. That the Malacca should be permitted to sail from a port, nominally under British control, a prize of war, and with the hated Russian flag flying at her masthead, has so worked on the minds of both peace and war people that a practically unanimous demand for drastic action is being made.

CONSERVATIVES FOR WAR.

And this demand is not confined to the extremists, but comes with even greater force from those who in the past have always advocated all diplomatic methods before even considering radical action. Even the statement that it is well nigh certain that the Russian prize court may be expected to eventually order the release of the Malacca after a hearing has been given in the case, has had no effect in stilling the popular clamor for revenge. That will not satisfy the British people.

RUSSIAN DEFEAT WITH AWFUL LOSS

LONDON, July 21.—Kurapatkin has made a desperate effort to break out of the Japanese cordon which has closed around him in the vicinity of Tachi-Chao without success, according to dispatches from the Far East.

A Russian reconnaissance in force in the direction of Matourisky Pass has been disastrously defeated. The Russian losses were very heavy. All three of the Japanese armies, under Generals Kuroki, Nodzu and Oku, have engaged the Russians.

The fighting has been in progress almost continuously since the dawn of July 19, and it is believed that the great battle of the

They want the vessel taken by force from her Russian prize crew if she is not instantly released.

As showing the temper of the people, the leading editorial in the Times today is a conspicuous example. After referring to the representation made to Russia by the British minister, Sir Charles Hardinge, the "Times" says:

"No government could allow the Malacca to be taken to a Russian port or to be confined by a Russian prize court. The Russian government must not adhere to an attitude plainly untenable. The action of the British government must not be construed as a sign of weakness or of cowardice by the Russian government consulting an act of injustice and folly of which Englishmen will be sorry to believe them capable."

Crisis Has Arrived.

Russia having failed to release the Malacca, but having instead ordered her to proceed to Lihon, it would seem that the situation referred to in the Times has arrived. On the other hand, continental critics are quick to believe that Russia is entirely within her rights in taking the Malacca to a Russian port for trial by a prize court. In the event of the vessel being released, it is believed that the Russian prize court would order her to proceed to Lihon.

It is believed that the Russian prize court would order her to proceed to Lihon.

VLADIVOSTOK SHIPS SINK JAP

YOKO, July 21.—The Russian cruisers Gromov, Rosta and Rurik were seen sailing southeast to-day, after searching and releasing a steamer off Cape Yeara. Later it was learned that a Russian Steamship Company's steamer of 318 tons was sunk by Russian cruisers at 8:30 o'clock this morning, off Cape Yeara, where the crew landed.

RUSSIANS LET PAK LING GO

LONDON, July 21.—A feeling of relief spread over the city this afternoon when it was learned that the Russian prize court had decided to let the steamer Pak Ling go. The steamer was captured by Russian cruisers on July 19, and was being taken to a Russian port for trial by a prize court. It is believed that the Russian prize court would order her to proceed to Lihon.

GRAVE CRISIS SAYS BALFOUR

LONDON, July 21.—Replying to questions in the House of Commons to-day, Premier Balfour stated that it was a fact that the Malacca had left Port Said in charge of a Russian prize crew and that this fact undoubtedly raised a most serious question. He stated that he was sure that this would make a statement in the House of Commons, and that he would be happy to cheer and extend assistance to any member of the House who would be prepared to do so.

JAPS BEATEN AT PORT ARTHUR

LONDON, July 21.—A Chefoo dispatch says that a French press, in constant communication with General Rosson, has information that the Japanese suffered a severe defeat at Port Arthur, and were driven back to Nagao Pass.

TO RELEASE MALACCA?

ST. PETERSBURG, July 21.—It is reported here that the Government has ordered the release of the steamer Malacca, and a search of her cargo and holds show that "no contraband of war is on board."

HORTON, NEW G. P. A. FOR OCEAN STEAMSHIP CO.

NEW YORK, July 21.—J. C. Horton, for many years connected with the Robert Fulton steamship company, and for several years, with headquarters in New York, has been appointed general manager of the Ocean Steamship Company. Mr. Horton's headquarters will be at the New York office, 30 North River.

MOTHE WADES FOR SON'S BODY

A search which began at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon resulted this morning in finding the body of nine-year-old John J. Carey, of No. 308 South street, South Boston, on the mud flats of Dorchester Bay. Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Carey, the parents, and directed the search from the moment the body was found. The body was found in the water in the immediate spot where her boy sank. Medical Examiner Briggs will view the body today.

HEAVIES MUST STOP TREATING

Special to the Boston American. NEW BEDFORD, July 21.—An editor has quietly gone forth from headquarters at Fort Rodman that there shall be less "treating" of men by officers of the Third Cavalry, and that the men shall be treated as men, and not as "troops." The editor, who is a member of the Third Cavalry, has been in the service for twenty years.

SLEEPING BABY FALLS TO DEATH

Made restless by the heat, the ten-month-old baby of Mrs. Rachel Banks, of No. 31 Middlesex street, Malden, rolled out of the bed where it was sleeping with its mother last night, and fell to the street. The baby was found dead in the street, and the mother was informed of the death of her child.

BOY VICTIM OF SUN DISAPPEARS

Suffering from the effects of a sunstroke, eight-year-old William P. Magna wandered away from his home, No. 21 Vernon street, Hoxbury, last Monday, and has not been seen since. The boy was overcome by the sun at the L street bath on July 12 and has been under the care of a physician. Monday morning he was on the sidewalk in front of his home, waiting for his mother to take him to the hospital, when he disappeared. His father, Ignace Magna, has reported the disappearance to the police and says that he is afraid the boy's mind is slightly affected. The little fellow is small for his age, has dark hair and eyes and has as well on the index finger of his right hand. He wore white duck trousers, white waist, blue and white tie, blue cap and tan shoes and stockings.

Before the strike prices ruled today in the meat markets. The packers and the dealers early in the day dropped their bids for whole dressed cattle to 8 1/2 cents, within one-half a cent of the lowest price ever demanded for beef at this time of the year. The retailers quickly and of their own accord lowered their prices. It seems, in fact, to be the case that at this time the meat dealers are selling at a loss. ANY LIGHTS FIRE; WILL DIE

HARON, July 21.—Helen Chapelle, the twelve-year-old daughter of Mrs. Chapelle, a death to the family of Mrs. Lewis. She was frightfully burned in a fire at 13 Marine street at South Boston this morning. Her life is despaired of. It is so that the child started the fire by playing with matches. The flames damaged to some extent the second floor of the house.

POLICE DRIVER KILLS HIMSELF

Dependent because of ill health, Edward L. Morley, the day driver of the patrol wagon of Police Station 5, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head this morning at the wagon house on Hart street. The body, fully dressed, was found lying on a bed by Patrolman Charles Corson, and the man had evidently been dead some time. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of death by suicide. The discovery of the body was due to the driver's failure to respond to a call for the wagon. Morley had been in poor health for about a year, and six months ago was treated at the City Hospital for lung and stomach troubles.

STOPS TRAIN 5 FT. FROM BOY

WOONSCRET, R. I., July 21.—Looking ahead from his engine cab as he took west onto Blackstone River railroad bridge, Engineer Edward Dwyer, of the New York, New Haven & Hartford's Midland division, was horrified to see a body wedged fast between the outer rail of the track and the iron struts under the bridge. He managed to stop his engine within five feet of the body. He found it was a young boy, William J. Dwyer, of No. 184 River street. Wilfred started to walk over the bridge, saw the train coming and crawled down between the rail and the iron struts, and though he had squeezed himself as far as possible he would have been hurt by the passing train, if not killed.
